Source: Based on data collected by Economic Development Lethbridge, which was provided by the Lethbridge College, the University of Lethbridge and two other Government of Alberta: Alberta Learning Information Services (ALIS) accredited Lethbridge training facilities, which have been in operation for more than five-years.

Notes:

<sup>1</sup> In this example, Economic Development Lethbridge has focused on Lethbridge's primary industries and extrapolated the number of post secondary graduates there are per year, with the appropriate training and skills to work at various levels within these industries. In some cases an individuals academic qualification would have utility in diverse industries, and is thus included in multiple sectors in this table.
